

Modular graduate development programme

Phase 1: Phase 1 introduces new joiners to your business - its products, brands, culture and the commercial marketplace. The modules draw on a blend of technical, professional and commercial skills - all designed to help bridge the gap between university and the workplace. There is flexibility built into the modules to ensure we can blend guest speakers from the line where necessary. We would work in partnership with you to design a programme that fully reflects your business, your strategic focus and your values.

Phase 2: Phase 2 modules are designed to support graduates as they grow into their roles and/or rotate around the business on placements. Each module can be half day or one day in duration, face-to-face or virtually delivered, offering real flexibility in delivery. We would work with you to organise the modules to ensure they support your graduates at the right time in careers and placements, drawing from any combination of the below...
